

Clinical Division of Psychotherapy,
Hong Kong College of Psychiatrists

&

Department of Psychiatry,
Tai Po Hospital

Department of Psychiatry
Tai Po Hospital

Infant's early relationship with his mother – What can Winnicott tell us about its influence on one's personality structure and implications on psychodynamic encounter?

Speaker: Dr Lea Klein

Lea Klein, PhD, a senior member of psychoanalytic Israeli and International Association, Teaching Analyst, teacher and supervisor. Dr.Klein is now working in a private clinic, teaching and supervising in Geha Mental Health Hospital in Israel. She also teaches students in China enrolled in the psychoanalytic program sponsored by the Chinese American Psychoanalytic Association (CAPA). Dr. Klein is interested in infant mental health and is experienced in supervising baby observation with special emphasis on development of interaction.

Dates: 8-9 April 2019 (Mon-Tue)

Time: 09:00 -16:20

Venue: Lecture Theatre, Block J, Alice Ho Miu Ling Nethersole Hospital

Outline: The workshop will explore on early infant-mother relationship, its influence on the structure of the personality, and its implications on psychodynamic encounter in psychotherapy.

Chairperson: Dr Rachel Ko & Dr Candy Wong, Department of Psychiatry, NTEC

Programme:

8:45-9:00	Registration	12:00-14:00	Lunch
9:00-10:30	Lecture	14:00-15:00	Clinical case study/ presentation
10:30-11:00	Tea break	15:00-15:20	Tea break
11:00-12:30	Lecture	15:20-16:20	Clinical case study/ presentation

=====Reply slip=====

Title: _____ Name: _____ Affiliation: _____

Email: _____ Contact no.: _____

Case presentation: NO/ YES (please also send a brief case summary together with this slip)
You can fill in the form online or send the slip to Ms Amy Chan at amy@hkpsych.org.hk or fax to 28701391

Sponsored by

Otsuka

Lundbeck

